

YES NEWS! September 2007

What's New:

We are happy to introduce you to the newest member of our YES team:

Kevin Wick will be working with YES as a graphic and interactive designer. Kevin is a graduate of a three year media arts program in Thunder Bay, Ontario and recently finished an internship at EMI Music Canada in Toronto. In his spare time, he enjoys hockey, golfing and mountain biking.

Two new lessons have recently been posted in Algebra section. Please also check out the updated multimedia glossary definitions.

What's Next:

Over the next few months, we will continue make improvements the YES website. Future plans include:

- Adding a search feature to the glossary terms.
- Updating each lesson with an interactive quiz component.
- Refining the site structure of the website to allow faster and more efficient location of information and lessons.

The grade nine math library is continuously being added to, with upcoming lessons focussing on:

- Algebra
- Working with Polynomials
- Trigonometry

Thank-you once again for your support and, as always, we look forward to hearing from you! Please send any feedback to info@youtheducationservices.ca
